If your fault or emergency is life-threatening or dangerous, please call 000 for emergency assistance immediately.

For a fault or emergency related to power infrastructure (poles, wires, power outages or interruptions) or gas (leaks or faults), please contact your distributor for assistance and for the latest information on the outage or blackout in your area. You can find your distributor details at the top right corner of your bill.

If you, or anyone at your home or business premises depends on life support equipment (or is life support dependent), this needs to be registered on your account. Learn more.

TRUenergy is now operating as EnergyAustralia

New South Wales survived the biggest test of its power system since the closure of AGL's Liddell coal power station, but the government now faces a delicate task to ensure power reliability over the summer amid heightened worries about disruption and spiking prices.
