Personal finance expert Martin Lewis speaks to a 5 Live listener about whether to install solar panels.

Speaking to BBC Radio 5 Live's Anna Foster, Martin responded to caller Lin's question by saying there are many things to consider.

Speaking on ITV's This Morning on Thursday 28 March, he explained why solar panels are "much more valuable than they used to be" - especially for people who are staying in their homes for a long time.

"I tend to be in favour of buying them... but if you find a good rental deal there's nothing wrong with it," Lewis said, urging viewers to "do the maths" for their specific situation.
