

Where is birmingham located uk

Where is birmingham located uk

Our editors will review what you've submitted and determine whether to revise the article.

Birmingham is located in the county of West Midlands, West Midlands, three miles east of the town of Smethwick, 88 miles north-east of Cardiff, and 101 miles north-west of London. Birmingham lies five miles north-east of the Worcestershire border, and was historically in the county of Warwickshire. Birmingham falls within the metropolitan district council of Birmingham. It is in the B2 postcode district. The post town for Birmingham is Birmingham.

Birmingham is in the ceremonial county of West Midlands, and the historic county of Warwickshire.

Birmingham is situated roughly centrally between the southernmost and northernmost extremities of West Midlands, and roughly centrally between the easternmost and westernmost extremities of West Midlands.

Birmingham is situated roughly centrally between the southernmost and northernmost extremities of the B2 postcode district, and towards the westernmost extremity of the B2 postcode district.

The post town for Birmingham is Birmingham. Birmingham is in the B2 postcode district, which corresponds to the post town of Birmingham.

The centre of Birmingham is located at position 52.47928° latitude and -1.90294° longitude.

The centre of Birmingham is located at the grid reference easting 406689 and northing 286822 within the British National Grid (OSGB36) system.

Position of Birmingham relative to nearby towns. Distance is measured from the centre of Birmingham to the centre of the town.

Position of Birmingham relative to nearby cities. Distance is measured from the centre of Birmingham to the centre of the city.

GetTheData is owned and operated by GetTheData Publishing Limited. Company Number: 11075184 & middot; Registered in England and Wales. Registered Office: Advantage, 87 Castle Street, Reading, Berkshire, England, RG1 7SN

The city of Birmingham is situated about 160km northwest of London, near the center of England. The region sits on the Birmingham Plateau, an upland area that ranges between 150 and 300 meters above sea level. Coal deposits lie underneath layers of sandstone and clay. While no rivers pass through it, the Birmingham Plateau is situated in the watershed between the Rivers Avon, Trent, and Severn, with access to plenty of freshwaters. Landlocked, the area remained unsettled for centuries. However, the presence of coal, iron, and timber made Birmingham a prime territory for industrial expansion.

Where is birmingham located uk

Contact us for free full report

Web: <https://kary.com.pl/contact-us/>

Email: energystorage2000@gmail.com

WhatsApp: 8613816583346

